

rock. No. 549585/2023

LOCAL DIVISION OF MILAN

He Judge Rapporteur

- noted that: - the Registry must proceed with the notification of the Statement of claim to the defendant parties;

- theoretically it could be necessary to proceed with the notification of copies of all the documents attached by the plaintiff to the Statement of claim;

- in this possible perspective, it would therefore be necessary to prepare and send a paper copy of approximately 2000 pages of documents to the defendant, as there is no e-mail address to be used for notification;

- the plaintiff was heard on the point, after being summoned before the judge rapporteur, and gave its consent to the service of the application, in the forms provided for by the Rules of Procedure, without sending a copy of the attached documents;

it was therefore deemed appropriate to proceed with the execution of the notification in ways that appear to be more responsive to a criterion of economy and efficiency, in full compliance with the adversarial principle and, in any case, in full compliance with all the provisions contained in the international conventions regarding notification of judicial documents both within the European Union and outside the EU; for these reasons, has

that the Registry proceeds with the notification of the Statement of claim according to the methods established by the Rules of Procedure without sending a copy of the attached documents to the plaintiff, as in any case listed on pages 41 and following. et seq. of the Statement of claim and in any case briefly described in their contents in the body of the same document.
